81. New York City Getaway

Liz and Gabor Boritt

Spend a week in an NYC studio apartment (c. 640sqft) between Union Square and Washington Square two blocks from the subway—a great location. The apartment is on the third floor of a high rise, early 20th century vintage, with 16' ceilings and split-level with the top like a large balcony where we sleep two. One wall is all windows and the sun lights up the place on beautiful mornings. The windows look away from the noise of the avenue on the front. We have oriental rugs but modern décor with all modern conveniences. Two more can sleep downstairs in a couch bed, if you don't mind being cozy. The building stands across from the back of Grace Church (a beautiful Episcopal Cathedral), close to theaters, a music hall is within a block, the Strand Bookstore (one of the world's greats) two blocks away, St Marks's Place five blocks away. Lots of restaurants, many very good and many inexpensive. The building has 24-hour doormen, and on its top sits a garden terrace with a nice view of the city.
